

Abandoned

I am glad he left me alone in hospital,
And told the doctors I had been chasing him.
And then I stopped, I knew it was the end.
I had to make friends with strangers,
Doctors and nurses and patients, in a new town,
And even though he was a doctor,
He refused to understand my plight,
Pretending he hadn't led me on,
All fantasies vanished.
And started living in the real world,
But I am glad it happened, for I met
The one I love and spend my life with.
