

An Aubade

'Don't go' he said,
Putting his arms around me,
Clamping me into a vice.
'It's my final exam 'I said,
'I need to get my degree,
I've worked hard all these years for.
It's a choice I've made,
I'll see you tonight.'

He got out our handcuffs,
And chained me to the bed.
'I'm serious' he said,
'I might get run over by a car,
Or get hit by lightning,
I've got to keep us safe'.

'Please let me go' I said,
'My future hangs on this exam,
And because i love you ,
This degree will help us..
You were lucky I stayed the night,
I could have studied instead.
I gave you a chance,
Let me finish my degree,
If you want to be mine'
