

Collage Poem

She was heart-shaped, the perfect woman,
But she wanted my bones, and my to eat my flesh,

— GREAT LINES!!

Because she thought gcsees should be replaced,
By traditional subjects, in order to stop the rot.

This was after the sats marking fiasco,

After which Ken Boston left,

Saying it was a concern of employers.

Then one british-educated man,

the son of a Nigerian banker tried, to blow up

A passenger plane, and a video director jumped on him.

He was called a hero. They are trying to find out

Which country the plot was based.

The rot had set in.

The abhu Dhabi education system is doing well however,

The country has teamed up with one of

Canada's largest pension funds,

Hoping to attract offers of over four billion.

The royal Bank of Scotland have advised.

They have not advised Borders, which is forced to close,

As the book industry has become leaner and meaner,

For the Borders business model was over ambitious,

It became anti-literature and depressing,

This may help independent booksellers.
