

Let your tears out until you are dry,

Then do what you want,

And no more cry.

To live and be joyful,,

Run, jump, socialize.

And dance and be playful,

For you must continue I realize.

Keep my memory sacred,

To be brought out in times of need,

For I know you'll be lonely and scared,

But to the nightmares pay no heed.