

Thought about moving in together again.

Finally we had to convince the doctors of our love,

And so your family would accept us.

We were lucky to find each other again.