

The Fine Line.

Hole in the sun, fire in the earth,
The opposites of ying and yang versus ka-os
Form part of a whole.
The balance of the life force
Suspended, and in equilibrium

The forces between ignite
Thrown out of balance, in chaos
Causing destruction and mayhem
Opposites of life and death, fire and water,
To conquer and cancel,
Reactions set off, ignited, by a catalyst,
And then the symbiotic and harmonious relationship
Is disturbed, upset, imbalanced,
One which keeps the world and nature
Functioning, in motion like clockwork.
Then the chain reaction will cause fire
In the sky and in the heavens

Then the ball of fire will fall off the edge of the world,
And the wind will whistle through the hole in the debris.
