

Together Again

Amazing to be back together,
In our own way, in our own space.
To relax with my love again, no more pain.
Breathe in your air, touch your beauty.
And feel it like I can feel myself,
As part of me, which is here to stay.

Forget all our troubles, and the troublesome,
The meddling and the bothersome,
The hurtful and the deceiving.
We have found our haven once again,
And life is peaceful and calm,

Only this was the calm before the storm,
Before all blew, cymbals clashed, volcanoes erupted,
And the world was all ablaze again.
And not knowing where we were,
we got swallowed by fire,
and froze at both ends of the pole,
until we put ourselves back together,
and now keep each other warm.
