

Trip to Niagra Falls

With a big smile on your face,
Standing in front of Niagra Falls,
With your face tilted upwards in a pose.

A picture taken before the bad times,
When you became wild like the waterfalls,
Confused, running away,
Shouting until you were hoarse.

For you'd stopped taking your medication,
Which I didn't believe in anyway,
Thinking love would cure you,
And I had stopped taking mine too.

At the judges request,
After you ran away naked,
I did get you some pills,
But had to throw them out,
When you took an overdose.
Then I put you on vitamin therapy,
And believed you were cured,
However the effects wore off,
But my patience survives,
You are back on the pills, and cured,
