

Your Dancing

You my love have decided my passage to heaven,

Through your dance and songs.

With which you charm at at masques and balls.

Your joy at dancing and singing, is shared by me,

Disguising it in fantastic ways.

Your toes are always moving,

You laughing as you enter the party.

And rhythmically accepting my hand,

Or waving at a friend in time to the beat.